Yours truly,

Sen. Walker speaks in the highest terms of our little battalion and Col. McDonald; the latter is the coolest man I know of. During the battle he would issue a command, then shoot a greaser, take a few puffs at a cigar, then command again. It was owing to his good generalship that he came off so well.

Next time we go we will take it, certain, although they have received reinforcements of two hundred men.

We have very arduous duty to perform, every private and officer in the battalion being on guard night and day.

Wm. M. Baird, of Berks county, a very prominent Fillmore man, begged to have his name effaced from the ticket. The voice of the convention was unanimous against him, and he was forced to consent to his name remaining

A committee was then appointed to draw up and publish an address to the people of the Mr. Edie, of Somerset, offered the following res-which was un Resolved, That we hereby pledge ourselves to each other, and: o the people of the State that we will use every honorable exertion in our power to secure the success of the electoral ticket this day recommended to the people of Pennsylvania for their support on the following basis subjoined, and we also express the confident hope that its success will be complete and entire on the fourth day of November next:—Twenty-six electors shall consist of the same names, the twenty-sev-enth elector on the Fillmore ticket shall consist of different name from the twenty-seven on the Fremontticket. For example: Millard Fillmore and twenty-six other names selected from the several Congressional districts shall form one ticket, and John C. Fremont and the same twenty-six names above referred to shall form the other ticket. The 26 electors shall be pledged to cast the electoral votes of the State for Millard Fillmore and John C. Fremont respectively, precisely in proportion to the popular votes cast for each as indicated by the twenty-seventh elector on each ticket. For example: if Millard Fillmore, or the twenty-seventh elector who represents him, receives an equal number of votes with John C. Fremont or his representative, then thirteen elec-toral votes shall be given for Millard Fillmore and A. J. Donelson, and thirteen for John C. Fremont and Wm. L. Dayton.

A mass meeting was held here this evening to endorse the Union electoral ticket. Governor Pollock made a speech, urging all his friends to support the ticket. Hon. Lemuel Todd, Charles B. Peurose and others also spoke.

Annexed is the card of Mr. Reed and others, referred to above:-TO THE AMERICANS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

There can be no denial that we, the und ersigned, have been and are both Americans and Fill-more men. We have watched the progress of the canvass with a profound attention, worthy of the cause and of the time. From circumstances but recently brought to light, we are satisfied that plans have been maturing to hand over the entire American party to the democratic platform. In the address of Chas. Gibbons, Esq. Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, he states that on the 12th of September a resolution was passed by the American State Committee, "In favor of any honorable arrangement with the friends of Fremont and Dayton, to defeat Mr. Buchanan." restigated this fact and find that such a resolu concealed from the American party of this city and State. It is now the time to speak plainly.

tion was passed. This fact has been studiously The chairman of our Fillmore State Commit-tee is not now, nor was he ever, connected with our American party, nor do we think that we should allow even the executive committee to stultify our cause and to consign us to entire defeat by their cry of "straight line American ticket." Mr. Sanderson does not believe (for he says so) that the Fillmore electoral ticket can 'illmore's name, and another ticket headed with Fremont's name, and the votes in the college to be cast for each candidate according to the number of votes polled by each ticket. Can any thing be fairer than this? We are ever Fillmore men, and can so express surselves by our votes; and our common political enemy, who stands on a platform entirely inimical to the American principles, may be defeated.

We are by this means securing votes in the Electoral College for Fillmore, where we would not have one without it. It resolves itself into a question of utter defeat by advocating our canlidate in one mode, or of obtaining for our candidate by another mode a fair proportion of the electoral vote of Pennsylvania. For ourselves, we know the responsibilities we assume, and we believe that our American friends throughout ion will thank us after the canvass is over. Yesterday we should not have made such a proposition. To day we do, because we are sure that treachery is being attempted, and are not willing that our American party, which we love as we love our political existence, shall be handed over as a body for the use of that misnamed Democratic party against which we have been battling since the organization of the American

THE FILLMORE MEETING LAST NIGHT .- We did not go to the speaking at the Court House last night. It was advertised that N. Wolfe, Esq., would speak, but we understand that Gen. Wm. Pilcher was the orator of the occasion. That the General, as usual, was repeatedly and vo-ciferously applauded by his triends, and that the enthusiasm ran so high that an enthusiastic Know Nothing accompanied each burst of applause with a blast on a horn. This the General considered an equivocal compliment, and expostulated with his windy friend, and declared it an insult to the ladies present. The offending member declared he meant no insult, and was bimself as good an American (?) as anybody. At this juncture considerable excitement prevailed, and the ladies rushed from the room, and the gallantry of the gentlemen took most of General's meeting.

This incensiderate Know Nothing should have remembered that the General rather likes to blow his own trumpet, and the unkindest cut that could be given the General was interrupting bim | 20 inches at that point, and no immediate prosin the delightful pleasure of speech-making.

Greeley, when at last driven to the wall by the contradictory stories in reference to Fremont's religious faith arising out of his false representations upon this question, sought refuge in the statement that there were two Fremonts, who bore a close resemblance to each other. Unfortunately for the disnnion, abolition, free love, socialistic philosopher of the Tribune, this extraordinary dodge has but added to the confusion thrown into the Abolition ranks by the glorious thrown into the Abolition ranks by the glorious a falling off in Exchange facilities and sorre disappointment at the tenor of the last Enropean

THE WRONG FREMONT.

[From the Journal of Commerce.] MESSES. EDITORS: - There will be a great crowing over the defeat of Col. Fremont in Pennsylvania, and you ought to give the reason. The fact is, they have all been voting for the wrong Fremont. I told Mr. Greeley, as soon as he said there were two Fremonts, that we should get mixed up, and I told my Pastor that we were dished. It is too bad, after sending ten dollars out of my small pay to Pennsylvania, and being promised an office too. One Fremont is enough any way.

AN OPEN CONFESSION IS GOOD FOR THE SCEL.-The answer to Websters' article of Friday was deferred until to-day, giving them time to accept our challenge, and take back certain assertions made in reference to the character or a lady whom he saw proper to call Flame. When I read the article my blood boiled with rage for the first time, seing that men would resort to the public from what I had said. However, I leave them to judge. I have said nothing but what I can stand up to, and can prove Websters' not only liars but forgerers This is hard, but listen: In June there was a short crontroversy between them and myself in reference to colored pictures. Their article was headed "Stealing a Baby," which the readers of the Times no doubt remember, and wound up by publishing a letter purporting to have been writter by J. A. Sheldon, dated Cleveland, June 20th, 1856, stating that Mr. Sheldon had examined the pictures made by Willoughby, of Ohio, and that they would not do or compare with the Sphereotypes. Mr. Sheldon says he never wrote any such letter and pronounces it a falsehood and forgery. What do the public think of this, or what would not a man do that would forge an-others name and letter, to sustain position? After reading Friday's article we felt enraged to think a man would implicate a lady he knew nothing about in a public controversy and insin' uate things derogetory to her character that we were inducee to write Messrs. Webster's a private note asking them to retract or make an apology for the injuries done the lady referred to in their article. This is one note and below is

MESSES. WEBSTER & BROTHER-SIES:-Your article in this morning's Times in reference to private matters, demand an explanation. Your insinuations or reflections upon the ladys' character is a lie, and if you do not retract through the morning's Times, you may expect to be treated as von justly deserve. Should the lady's husband or friends refuse to chastise you, I will, and that without mercy. I had intended continuing the controversy, but when men cease to do business in a business-like manner, and stoop

MR. TROXEL-Str : Your note is at hand, and in reply, we would say that, so far as the lady is concerned, we meant no offence to her. We told the story as we heard it last winter-it was told as a joke upon you, and there was no intention of injuring the lady; but if we have done so, we will make any apology she may de-

As for yourself, sir, we are sorry you should allow yourself to get so much excited in a newspaper controversy, as to send such insulting messages. We have no enmity against you personally, although you were the first aggressor, and what followed came as a natural consequence. We did not once think of how it would affect the lady, and are sorry it did not occur to us. We ask her a thousand apologies. We can't do As to the chastisement you speak of, why, i you really think me deserve it, then we suppose we must take it; but you must be as easy on us as possible.

We come to the Gallery about half-past eight o'clock, and go home about dusk. We go down Main to Fifth, ont Fifth to Jefferson, down Jef-Yours, &c.,

Messrs. Webster have snggested the impropriety of apologizing publicly, still wishing the anthorities are desirons to keep the peace, that public to be under the impression they have been telling the truth. As newspaper controversies sist in this crisis, so pregnant with results to are of little benefit, nnless strictly business-like, the weal or woe of our character as a city, and I intend this to be my last, especially so, as I that good and true men enough could not be leave for New York in the morning, to get what

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1863.

Doctor James Williams: Por several years past, I have been liable to attacks of Dyspepsia, but never have I been more distressingly afficted with its symptoms, than within the last few weeks. Indigestion, nervous irritability, lespondency, a sense of weight in the stomach, and severe pains in the lelt side, rendering me, for the time being, truly wretched. Fortunately, I was recommended by a friend to try your Elixir. I did so, and in less than wo weeks, indigestion ceased; pain and nervous depression let me, and appetite, with mental and boddy health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost mi actulous, and my object in writing to week. fully restored. To me the cure seemed amost mi lous, and my object in writing to you 18—a hope that persons suffering the iniseries of Dyspepsia wil themselves of your efficient remedy. I am, dear sir, yours truly. No. 536, Northwest corner Main and Third streets.

Louisville. Ky.

IN calling the attention of dealers in our line in this market, we would state that during the last six months our attention has been directed to getting up a large number of new Stove and Grate Patterns, which, added to our already large stock, gives us one of the most extensive and diversified assortments in the western market. Among the number, we would refer to our "Ashland Kentuckian" Cook Stove, (three sizes out.) These Stoves have great weight of metal, highly finished and elegant in appearance. They combine all the modera improvements that practical experience has developed.

We would invite dealers to call and examine for themselves, and we think in quality, price, &c., they can be suited. Having enlarged our manufacturing department, we can promptly meet all degrands. Thankful for the pat ronage which has been so kinkly bestowed upon us, we trust, by striet and prompt strennon to all orders, to secure a continuance of it. And the quality of our manufactured work shall be, as heretofore, equal if not superior to the best, and satisfaction given in all casees.
